Step 1: Rent a mini-moke

Step 2: Group gathers at breakfast.

Step 3: A list of targets and guidelines is given to divided groups.

Step 4: En route to the capital city, to meet a market man and learn Mauritian words.

Step 5: Taste typically Mauritian Street food and learn to pronounce them.

#THECULTURETRIP

Mauritius is not only about sandy beaches and blue lagoons, but also a diversity of culture. We craft itineraries to discover the unique aspects of the Mauritian heritage. With a list of things to do, a map with guidelines is given to divided groups and the marathon starts early in the morning, a picture at each step should be taken as evidence

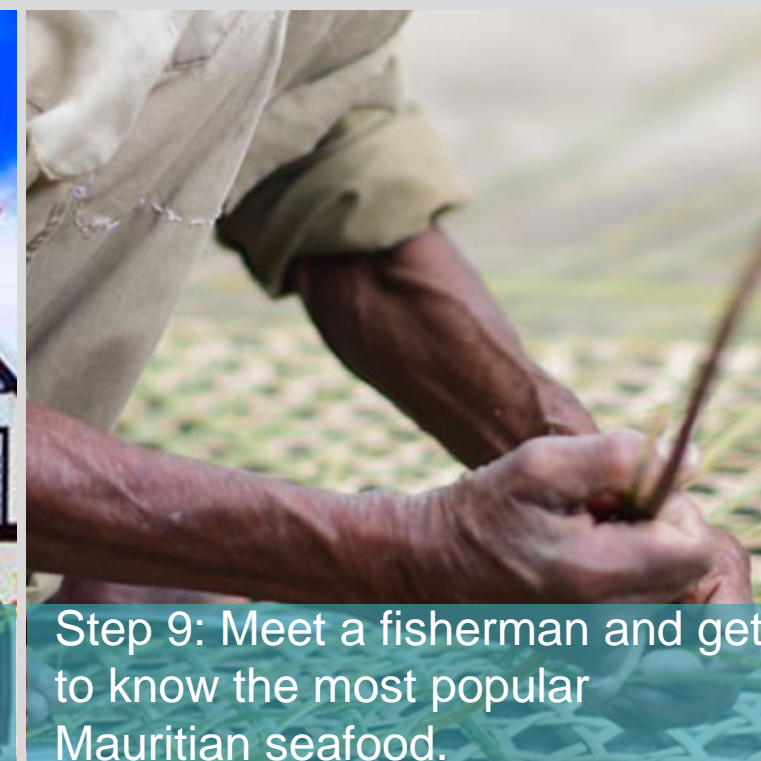

Step 6: Stop at an agricultural land and learn about Mauritian vegetables.

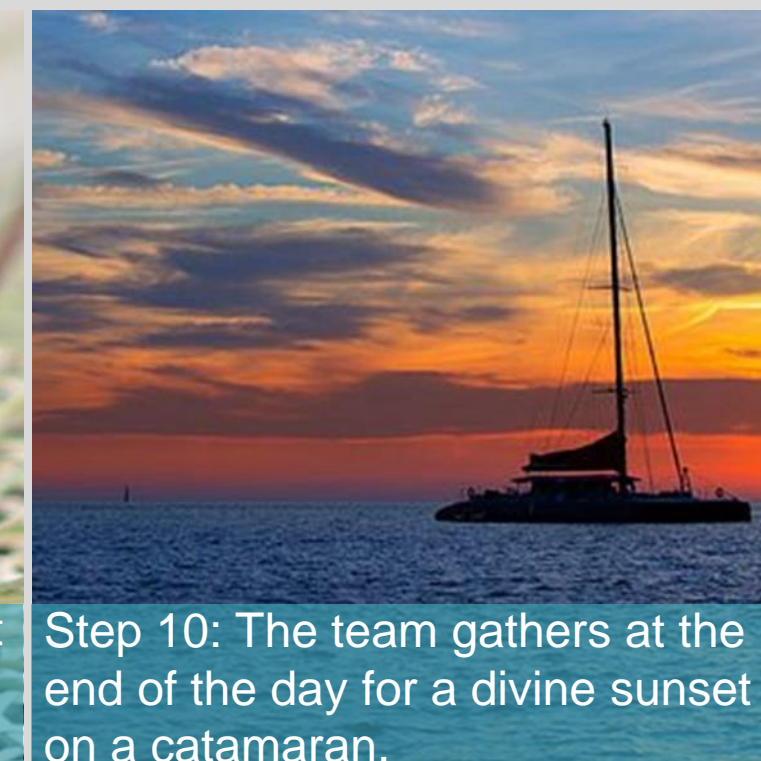

Step 7: Taste locally made rum

Step 8: Head north and visit different sacred places.

Step 9: Meet a fisherman and get to know the most popular Mauritian seafood.

Step 10: The team gathers at the end of the day for a divine sunset on a catamaran.
